Yes	39	78%

Depends on the type of issue	11	22%

What would make you more likely to report maintenance issues in your classroom?

I would be more likely to report issues that have an immediate negative effect on students and those that cannot fix myself.

I ALWAYS report issues, but they are never remedied promptly. We need a contract with a better cleaning business because this current one does not do the work. I have to repeatedly report issues. This is not a good business practice for Guam Cleaning Masters. There are other issues with this current cleaning business -- too numerous to mention in this little space.

I always report them because I don't have the resources or permission to fix them.

If they were a health hazard or interfered with my teaching.

if there is a concern for health and/or safety

Things that are out of my control that should be handled by the district.

smell and destruction of property

Confirmation that my request was received.

I report them if they have a direct and immediate impact on my students' comfort and safety in the classroom.

Send this same survey form to me on daily basis (only when school is in session).

When it affects student safety and learning.

Air conditioners have not been cleaned and are leaking as a result. Floors are not being swept and mop enough. Sinks are not being cleaned.

I do my diligence in reporting any classroom irregularities in a timely manner once observed.

If it made a difference

classroom conditions

If it was fixed in a timely manner.

issues beyond my personal skill in maintenance.

Major issues like trash not pick up, AC problem, door not locking, stained flooring, water leak from the faucet, etc.

I usually report issues.

1. air con repair 2. wet mopping 3. working fire extinguisher 4. clearing/sucking up the chalk dust from chalk board 5. carpentry: door knob; the door; the cabinet doors

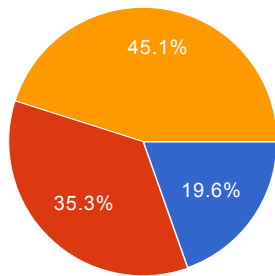

PLEASE FIX THE DOOR KNOB/LOCK IN COUNSELING DEPT'S ENTRANCE. IT ALSO NEEDS A KEY. PLEASE HAVE THE CLEANING CREW STRIP, CLEAN, AND WAX THE COMMON AREA IN THE COUNSELING DEPT. PLEASE REMOVE BLUE COMPUTER WIRES HANGING ON THE WALL IN THE COMMON AREA.

If I knew the work would be completed in a timely manner, I would more than likely report maintenance issues, but the replies stated by the maintenance employees "if there is money" hinders me from reporting issues. I still will report the issue, but know it may take a very long time to get it fixed.

safety concerns that are endangering to students and teachers etc.

No 18 35.3%

Is there anything else you would like to share?

Not at this time.

Volunteering. I do the following on a regular basis: Daily: Graffiti removal A-wing women's restroom Weekly: Adopt-A-Wing, Adopt-R-Street and Recycling

Why are cleaning issues not taken seriously? Why does it take a long time to get rooms cleaned or other issues promptly taken care of? Why do I have to specifically tell the vice principal what the contracted cleaning business needs to be done; in other words, why do I have to constantly tell them to sweep, clean, mop, take out the trash, etc.? Thought it was their job and this and other tenets are written in the signed contract.

although there is an effort to improve the school condition, the school building and grounds are old and in need of more work than is available.

New contract should be written to hold the cleaning company responsible. For example, include in the contract how much money will deducted should a complaint arise from a teacher indicating the room was not swept. This way, the cleaners would certainly leave no room undone and neither would the company anymore revenue than they should.

Provide the schools with the resources and tools to do their work.

I already volunteered but haven't been utilized

None

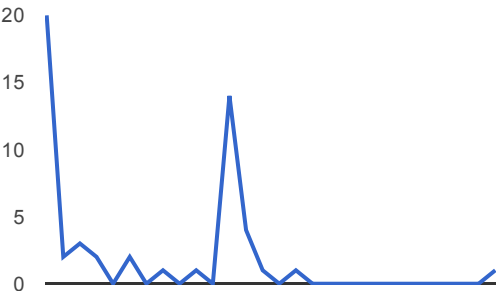

I keep my room as clean as possible. However could use help from the cleaners in at least wet mopping the floor once a week. -availability of equipment for self cleaning of classroom.

WE NEED STUDENT CHAIRS OR BENCH IN THE COMMON AREA. OUR CHAIRS WERE BORROWED AND NEVER RETURNED.

outside clean EPA

In order for me to seriously partake in our school maintenance program, I need to know the following: - Funding - Whose overall in charge - Maintenance Stakeholders - Bottom line, hate to waste time.

Go GW!

The biggest issue that I can see as a student is that there's no sense of duty, responsibility, or ownership. It's hard to motivate people to do something they don't see as helping them. Why not do a last 15 minutes of the day before dismissal to clean the classroom? We've done these sorts of things in elementary schools. Do mandatory monthly clean-ups. Do something that gets people excited about our schools. I'm a graduating senior, and I know that we can have fun painting, or picking up trash, or anything menial, as long as we have our friends with us, and it's not a consequence of an action. Why not make a system that requires a certain area of classes to come in one time in a month to do a walkover of the school, and fix up the things we find? This is just speculation on my part, but I also think that a big cause of facilities getting trashed is that our campus is somewhat of an eyesore. It looks old. It looks ugly. If we made the bathrooms prettier, people would trash them up less. Get rid of the old tiling, brighten them up with better lighting, nicer paint colors, and replace the cinder block walls with actual stalls. It sounds funny to say it like this, but our bathrooms don't have a good atmosphere. We need to facelift our school to make it something we can all be proud of. No one is happy having a junky car that's rusting out. We want to have something that at least looks well enough. We can't raise George Washington up to the level of Okkodo High School, or any of the newly built schools, but we can renovate it to do something.

I think the bathrooms really need to be cleaned.
